JOINT CASE MANAGEMENT PLAN

Date: August 19, 2008

Time: 2:00 p.m.

Place: Ct. 2, 4th Floor,
1301 Clay Street, Oakland, CA

HON. CLAUDIA WILKEN

22 Plaintiff Microsoft Corporation, by and through its undersigned counsel of record, and
23 defendants A&S Electronics, Inc. ("A&S Electronics") and Alan Z. Lin ("Lin") (collectively, "A&S"), 24 by and through their undersigned counsel of record, having met and conferred with respect to the 25 matters set forth herein, hereby submit the following Joint Case Management Statement.

1 1. Jurisdiction and Service.

2 This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Microsoft's claims for copyright infringement
3 pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 501 and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a), and venue is proper in the Northern
4 District of California pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) and 1400(a). The principal place of business
5 of Defendant A&S Electronics is in Milpitas, California and defendant Lin resides in Fremont,
6 California. The Defendants were served on May 6, 2008 by personal service and have timely
7 answered.

8 Microsoft contends that discovery may reveal the identity of Doe Defendants, who have yet to 9 be served.

10 2. Facts.

11 Microsoft contends that on or about July 22, 2005, a Microsoft investigator ordered one unit of 12 Microsoft Windows XP Professional from a business in Oklahoma known as Icomp, LLC and that the 13 product was received with a shipping label that set forth a return address that was known to be an 14 address of A&S Electronics in Milpitas. Microsoft alleges that it examined the software and 15 determined that it infringed its copyrights because it was Microsoft Student Media software ("Student 16 Media"), which Microsoft contends that the Defendants are not authorized to use or distribute. On or
17 about August 18, 2005, Microsoft sent A&S Electronics a letter claiming that it had distributed
18 infringing Microsoft volume license software and demanding that it immediately cease and desist such 19 infringing activity. Microsoft contends that despite this warning, the A&S Defendants continued to 20 distribute infringing Microsoft software. On April 11, 2006, a Microsoft investigator ordered one unit
21 of Microsoft Windows 98 from the A&S Defendants' website, www.trustprice.com. Microsoft asserts 22 that upon examination it determined that the product was infringing because it was intended for 23 distribution under Microsoft's "Fresh Start" program, and that CD artwork, part number and text
24 indicating this intended use had been removed from the face of the CD.

25 Microsoft claims that in or about July and August 2007, it received complaints from 26 individuals who reported receipt of "Not for Resale" Microsoft software purchased from the A&S
27 Defendants' website, www.trustprice.com. According to Microsoft, subsequent purchases of 28 Windows XP Professional software by Microsoft investigators on February 11 and February 20, 2008

1 were determined to be infringing Student Media software which Defendants are not authorized to 2 distribute. Additionally, Microsoft contends the software was unlawfully imported to the United 3 States.

4 Microsoft also contends that on or about April 2 and April 9, 2008, Microsoft investigators
5 purchased “Microsoft Office 2007 Professional License (Keycode Only-No CD-Download Software
6 Online)” from the A&S Defendants’ website, www.trustprice.com. Microsoft asserts that the A&S
7 Defendants sent the keycode to the investigators by use of their email address, sales@trustprice.com
8 and that its examination of the keycodes reflected that both were wrongfully obtained and illicitly
9 distributed Microsoft Product Keys.

10 A&S is a distributor of software products. Defendants deny that they have sold (knowingly or 11 otherwise) any counterfeit or infringing Microsoft software as alleged in this lawsuit. Defendants
12 contend that they buy and resell only lawfully made copies of genuine Microsoft software from 13 reputable vendors in the secondary market, which software is carefully inspected and confirmed by the 14 defendants to be genuine upon its receipt. Defendants further assert that they have sold or otherwise
15 distributed only genuine copies of Microsoft software, which they had a legal right to convey and 16 transfer to third parties.

17 The defendants also deny the allegations made by Microsoft that they have imported copies of 18 Microsoft software. The defendants further deny that they have trafficked in counterfeit or 19 unauthorized "product keys" or "keycodes" for Microsoft software, or that they have otherwise
20 unlawfully circumvented any technological measure that controls access to copyrighted Microsoft
21 software. Defendants contend that all "product keys" or "keycodes" distributed by the defendants are 22 genuine and authorized by Microsoft.

23 The defendants believe that there is no question that the Microsoft products in question were 24 genuine and that Microsoft transferred ownership of them to others before A&S purchased them in the 25 secondary market for resale consistent with the "first sale doctrine." Defendants assert that Microsoft
26 as the copyright proprietor has already received its reward for distribution of the software products in 27 question and has no further right to restrain alienation.

1 One or more parties believe that the principal factual issues in dispute are as follows:

- 2 (1) Whether the copies of the software sold or distributed by the defendants were 3 manufactured under the authority of the copyright owner?
- 4 (2) Whether the defendants have trafficked in counterfeit "product keys" or "keycodes" for 5 any Microsoft software?
- 6 (3) Whether Microsoft sold or otherwise distributed the copies of the software in question 7 in bona fide transactions such that ownership of the copies vested in the transferee?
- 8 (4) Whether Microsoft licensed the reproduction of the copies of its works identified in the 9 Complaint such that ownership of the licensed copies vested in the licensee?
- 10 (5) Whether Microsoft licensed the reproduction of the copies of its works identified in the 11 Complaint such that ownership of the licensed copies vested in third parties?
- 12 (6) Whether Lin has engaged in any conduct that would make him liable for any claim 13 asserted by Microsoft?

14 3. Primary Legal Issues.

- 15 One or more parties believe that the following legal issues must be resolved:
- 16 (1) Whether the A&S Defendants have infringed Microsoft's registered copyrights by 17 importing and/or distributing Microsoft software and components, without approval or authorization
18 from Microsoft and/or without authorization by law, in violation of 17 U.S.C. §§ 501, 602?
- 19 (2) Whether the A&S Defendants trafficked in counterfeit and/or unauthorized Product 20 Keys, in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2)?
- 21 (3) Whether the A&S Defendants' actions were willful, as defined by 17 U.S.C. § 22 504(c)(2)?
- 23 (4) Whether the First Sale doctrine bars some or all of Microsoft's claims?
- 24 (5) Whether Microsoft's claims are barred by the defendants' statutory entitlement, under 25 Section 109 of the Copyright Act, to redistribute non-infringing copies of Microsoft's works without 26 the consent of Microsoft?
- 27 (6) The impact of Quality King Distributors, Inc. v. Lanza Research International, Inc., 28 523 U.S. 135 (1998), on this case?

1 (7) Whether some or all of Microsoft's claims are barred by the doctrine of fair use or 2 privilege?

3 (8) Whether Microsoft has engaged in illegal price discrimination, anticompetitive
4 conduct, or other acts of unclean hands?

5 (9) Whether Microsoft has engaged in copyright misuse?

6 (10) Whether any or all of Microsoft's claims are barred by the statute of limitations or 7 laches?

8 (11) Whether Microsoft's attempts to control use of its works beyond the scope of copyright
9 violate First Amendment rights?

10 (12) Whether Microsoft's "product keys" and "keycodes" are protected by the Digital 11 Millennium Copyright Act?

12 (13) Whether Microsoft's alleged geographic restrictions on the distribution of Microsoft
13 products are valid and enforceable?

14 (14) Whether Microsoft's alleged restrictions on the distribution of "educational" software
15 are valid and enforceable?

16 (15) What damages, if any, Microsoft is entitled to recover?

17 (16) Whether Microsoft has taken reasonable steps to mitigate any alleged damages?

18 4. Motions.

19 There are no previous or pending motions in this matter.

20 Following discovery, all parties anticipate filing motions for summary judgment.

21 5. Amendment of Pleadings.

22 The parties do not currently expect to amend any parties, claims, or defenses, but reserve their 23 right to do so. The parties propose a deadline of December 1, 2008 for amending the pleadings.

24 6. Evidence Preservation.

25 Microsoft requests that Defendants preserve any and all copies of Microsoft Student Media
26 software in their possession; copies of all business records, invoices, billing statements, orders and 27 shipping records relating to their sales and purchases of any Microsoft products; records containing 28 contact information for the companies and/or individuals from whom they acquired any Microsoft

1 products for resale, including addresses, telephone numbers, email addresses and website addresses;
2 and copies of any correspondence, email or otherwise, relating to any Microsoft software or products
3 they have acquired and/or distributed.

4 The A&S Defendants ask that Microsoft preserve any and all evidence relating to the 5 defendants' alleged copyright and/or DMCA infringement, Microsoft's relationship with the 6 defendants, Microsoft's Student Media program, Microsoft's "Authorized Education Reseller"
7 program, Microsoft's "Fresh Start" program, product keys or keycodes for Microsoft software, any
8 other technological measures designed to control access to Microsoft software, Microsoft's 9 international manufacturing and distribution program, any alleged geographic restrictions placed on 10 the sale or transfer of Microsoft software, Microsoft's efforts to investigate allegedly unlawful or 11 infringing software, Microsoft's instructions to employees or agents charged with identifying 12 infringement of Microsoft's copyrights, Microsoft's licenses to the general public to reproduce all or a
13 portion of any of the Microsoft works identified in the complaint, any and all purchases of software
14 from Trustprice.com by Microsoft or its agents, Microsoft's alleged damages, and any and all other 15 evidence relevant to the claims and defenses at issue in this case.

16 7. Disclosures.

17 Microsoft and the A&S Defendants will timely exchange their initial disclosures pursuant to 18 the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a).

19 Plaintiff Microsoft represents that it will disclose (i) the names and relevant information
20 regarding known fact witnesses, (ii) evidence relevant to its case (copyright and registrations, 21 allegedly infringing Microsoft products distributed by Defendants in Microsoft's possession, and the 22 invoices for the allegedly infringing Microsoft products acquired by investigators), and (iii) the 23 applicable damages and statutory references thereto.

24 The A&S Defendants will disclose such information as required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a).

25 8. Discovery.

26 Initial Disclosures, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1), will be exchanged as noted in 27 Paragraph 7 above. No other discovery has been conducted to date.

28 The parties do not currently anticipate the need for modifications to the limitations on

1 discovery imposed under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Civil Rules. The parties,
2 however, reserve their right to request modification or limitations on discovery as this case proceeds.

3 The parties have agreed on a proposed discovery plan as set forth in their accompanying Rule
4 26(f) Report of Meeting.

5 9. Class Actions.

6 Not applicable.

7 10. Related Cases.

8 Not applicable.

9 11. Relief.

10 a. Damages: Microsoft will seek to recover actual damages, which include its losses and
11 all profits Defendants have made as a result of their wrongful conduct, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. §§
12 504(b) and 1203(c)(2). Alternatively, Microsoft may decide to elect to pursue a claim for statutory 13 damages pursuant to 17 U.S.C. §§ 504(c) and 1203(c)(3). In addition, because Microsoft alleges that 14 Defendants' infringement has been willful within the meaning of the Copyright Act, Microsoft
15 contends that any award of statutory damages should be enhanced pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c)(2).

16 The A&S Defendants deny that Microsoft is entitled to any award of actual or statutory 17 damages.

18 b. Bases for damage calculation: Microsoft contends that actual damages should be 19 calculated based on the (i) lost sales and foregone profits to Microsoft caused by Defendants'
20 infringing conduct, (ii) internal costs to Microsoft of investigating Defendants' infringing conduct, and 21 (iii) profits directly attributable to Defendants' sales of infringing Microsoft products. Microsoft 22 contends that statutory damages on its copyright infringement claims will be calculated based on the 23 number of Microsoft copyright infringements, with each copyright infringement assessed at no less
24 than $750 and no more than $30,000, for non-willful infringements, and no more than $150,000 each
25 for willful infringement. Microsoft contends that it is entitled to statutory damages on its DMCA
26 claim of not less than $200 or more than $2,500 per Product Key.

27 As noted above, the A&S Defendants deny that Microsoft is entitled to any award of actual or 28 statutory damages.

1 c. Accounting: Microsoft will seek an order, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, requiring
 2 Defendants to provide Microsoft a full and complete accounting of all profits received by Defendants
 3 from their distribution or sale of infringing Microsoft software and/or materials, and of any other
 4 amounts due and owing to Microsoft as a result of Defendants' illegal activities.

5 The A&S Defendants deny that Microsoft is entitled to an accounting.

6 d. Injunctive Relief: Microsoft will seek a preliminary and permanent injunctive relief
 7 pursuant to 17 U.S.C. §§ 502 and 1203(b)(1) to prohibit Defendants from continuing their allegedly 8 infringing conduct.

9 The A&S Defendants deny that Microsoft is entitled to injunctive relief.

10 e. Impoundment Order: Microsoft may seek an order, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. §§ 503(a),
 11 509(a), and 1203(b), and 28 U.S.C. § 1651(a), impounding all infringing Microsoft software and/or 12 materials, or any Microsoft documentation or packaging, and any related items, including business
 13 records, that are in Defendants' possession or under their control, and ordering the return, remedial
 14 destruction, or other appropriate disposition of all impounded items.

15 The A&S Defendants deny that Microsoft is entitled to an impoundment order.

16 f. Constructive Trust: Microsoft may seek an order, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(b)
 17 declaring that Defendants hold in trust, as constructive trustees for the benefit of Microsoft, all
 18 "profits" received by Defendants from their importation, distribution or sale of infringing Microsoft
 19 software and/or materials, and issue temporary, preliminary and permanent injunctive relief enjoining
 20 and restraining Defendants and their agents from transferring, concealing or dissipating all profits and 21 assets acquired in whole or in part with those profits.

22 The A&S Defendants deny that Microsoft is entitled to a constructive trust.

23 g. Attorney's Fees/Costs: Microsoft will also seek to recover its attorney's fees and 24 costs of suit pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505.

25 Defendants likewise will seek recovery of attorneys' fees and costs of suit pursuant to 17
 26 U.S.C. § 505.

27 12. Settlement and Alternative Dispute Resolution.

28 The parties are currently exploring possible settlement options and have elected Mediation

1 (ADR L.R. 6) as their ADR process. The ADR plan was previously filed in accordance with the
 2 Court's scheduling order.

3 The parties expect to review the initial disclosures prior to engaging in mediation. The parties
 4 may also want to conduct a limited number of depositions in order to be in a better position to 5 negotiate a resolution.

6 13. Consent to Magistrate Judge for All Purposes.

7 The parties do not consent to having a magistrate judge. However, the parties will consent to a
 8 referral to a magistrate judge for discovery issues.

9 14. Other References.

10 The case is not suitable for reference to binding arbitration, a special master, or the Judicial 11 Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

12 15. Narrowing of Issues.

13 Not applicable.

14 16. Expedited Schedule.

15 Not applicable.

16 17. Scheduling.

17 The parties propose the following case scheduling deadlines:

18 Deadline to add additional parties: October 1, 2008

19 Fact Discovery Cut-Off: February 16, 2009

20 Expert disclosures: March 6, 2009

21 Expert Discovery Cut-Off: April 17, 2009

22 Dispositive Motions Filing Deadline: May 7, 2009

23 Pre-Trial Conference: July 21, 2009

24 Trial Date: August 10, 2009

25 18. Trial.

26 The A&S Defendants have requested a trial by jury. The parties expect that the trial will last 27 approximately five days.

1 19. Disclosure of Non-Party Interested Entities or Persons.

2 Both parties have filed the required Certification of Interested Entities or Persons under Civil
3 Local Rule 3-16.

4 20. Other Matters.

5 Not applicable.
